Last Weeks SOTW: BEACHBALL

You always know when there's pussy about, the rats come out of the woodwork and FUCKNUT was certainly there for his guest appearance. So a large contingent stood by, biting at the bit ready to take off. CHIPPS exclaimed that there were no hills, watch out for water traps and a flat run.

Leading the pack KLINGING in his wallabies rugby jersey sped through the park onto Mcdonald rd then with a cunning checkback ran back along Mcdonald rd under the overpass up to a CB in Mawerra st and back toward the servo in Mclennan st led by TURBO. There a cunningly laid FT in Bale st kept us till we got to grove st and headed to the rail line ROYAL SCREW (soon to turn 60) leading the pack on up bridge st we flew till hitting Chalk st now heading west via some messy CB's into Laura st where PUSSY GaLORE smelt a dead end and sniffed out the trail to Lutwyche rd. A quick stop at the TWC bike shop saw RINGPIECE pick up the trail south along Lutwyche rd till hitting the longest CB- right the way down High st, up to Lutwyche rd the and back toward the hospital CRAFT spotting the trail down Thondley st around some picturesque panel beaters yards and back to the clubhouse where we were visually feated to shaved pusseys and hugh tits. In the melee, SNAKE roused the crowd with his library of songs, whilst SPERMWHALE kepts in fits with disgusting ditties. RINGPIECE won BEACHBALLS ugh boots

Was it the great food (fish and chips or Schnitzel and chips...with salad!). Embryo won the raffle prize of being canoodled by 2 lovely wenches. One of the winning tickets was also 69, so after a brief pregnant pause whenst it was determined that to receive the aforementioned gift in a public place, was in bad taste (in every aspect of the word), the bottles were handed over.

The social discourse and the walk with VD clones on every street corner, and of course the lovely ladies and the unashamed toy games later on were definitely a bonus...for a lad like me who lives a very sheltered and quiet life....it was a real eye opener.

...what more can I say....I better stop this is beginning to sound like a run report.
