

Run 2258

Hell I'm 75 run

Hares: Dole Bludger and Twin Tubs

This run report is done by Multiple Choice NOT Luftwaffe as he has no computer and now no TV with the switching off of Analog TV. Luftwaffe is a true dinosaur now.

Our GM disappointed us by not having a song before heading off to put us into the right frame of mind. We set off from Mansfield Tavern with a reasonable sized runner pack down Wecker Road into the back streets of Mansfield. It was a very well marked trail with a lot of two ways (unlike last week where there were a hundred 360s). However, there were no trail masters on the run and none of the two ways were marked off for the stragglers. So once again Multiple Choice and Luftwaffe had to do all the trails and collect the stragglers like Pushup, Old Hashman and Little Arse Play. The front runners were actually gentlemen (i.e. Tinkerbelle, Kraft, Lucky Dog and Even Optus) this week and waited at one of the two ways until Multiple Choice and Luftwaffe arrived with the stragglers. The pack finally headed up Ham Road onto Broadwater into the park before Bulimba Creek. They then ran all the way along the path with a lot of arrows and no CBs or FTs which allowed the pack to stay together. Along the trail we did come upon the GM and his cohorts loitering along the bike track (probably up to no good). GM asked us if we knew the area and we directed him back to the main road.

It was a good, short run compared to the previous week.

Everyone made the Circle this week and the Monk (Fut Knuckle) started it off next to the block of units and promptly got told off and was told the police were on their way.

So the Circle was relocated to under the Tavern and continued with several Hashmen called out for their misdemeanors. Vasso informed the Circle that Snappy Tom had dementia and wore two watches to work. One was on Aussie time and the other on Chinese time.

Little Arse Play got Shit Of The Week for organising a boys' cruise with Snappy Tom but taking a lady friend instead.

Run Score: 7/10

Beer and Food Score: 9/10
