

Shower Cap Run Run No 2301 24 March 2014
Colmslie Hotel Best & Less and Pussy Galore

Noise pollution was extreme, in the Colmslie Hotel car park, as the throng that is Brisbane Hash House Harriers assembled for their Monday night therapy session. What a farkin' rabble. Anchovy was causing a bit of concern as he recorded the attendees on a very small piece of paper. It's irresponsible actions like this that no doubt caused Kimbies to miss out on his 1000th run. Snappy was rushed off his feet, capturing candid shots of this body of true athletes, assembled for another Monday night adventure. No doubt we'll see an improvement in the dress code and there will be much grooming of hair, for those that have it, as Snappy shares our sacred rituals with the Facebook mob. Not a bad idea really, as long as you're not the mug who has his bare arse displayed to the entire world.

A sweaty Pussy gave some vague apology for the standard of run setting while Best & Less did mention something bordering on sensibility, about the arrows being marked in the gutters.

This turned out to be a good piece of advice.

The pack headed off, out on to Baringa street, led by the usual overachievers, Royal Screw, Craft, Tinkerbelle, Even Optus, Scruffy & Octopussy with JC deviously tagging on and, as usual, saving himself for a big finish. Down Algori St, around a bit of parkland and out on to Junction Rd., before passing through part of Colmslie Reserve. The hares did well in marking plenty of 360's, CB's etc and actually managed to fluke a RG where the walkers and runners arrived at the same time.

Unbelievable!

The run was fairly flat until we got to Kuranda St., it then rose 25m over a distance of 200m. Turbo's Jiminy would even have struggled to get up this fucker. Next it was a cunningly set piece of trail that had the pack running high side and low side of Olive Grove and then up another arse of a hill, Bexley Ave., high and low side again. Apparently we had a man-down around this point but competitive FRT's JC, Even Optus, Tinkerbelle and Grewsome were too busy racing, they couldn't have given a stuff whether Bugs survived or not. Over achieving arseholes. Just as well we have Caring Understanding Nice TypeS, like Craft & Scruffy to look after things, up the back...of the pack, I mean.

The run finished with a couple of CB's on Victoria St. and Tandoor St., with a 1.2k run in to home. This was a really well set run with well spaced arrows. Well done you young pricks.

Heavily tattooed Honourable GM, Fucknut, unashamedly donned his Lions regalia as usual, pretending to be unaffected by recent AFL results. It was noticeable however, that he lacked his usual control over the rabble, as Snappy kept snapping away with his Facebook project and several, in depth, conversations were taking place in the outer ranks of the circle. Probably Irish Joke and Vaso discussing if their hair was suitably groomed for Snappy's photos.

Visitor Pull Pull (I think) was welcomed by the GM and it was good to see the return of Pubic.

Shit of the Week nominees were :-

Irish Joke	For becoming an old fart (over 60)
Luftwaffe	Another one of his devious attempts to groom young women to meet his needs Not sure what he left in the plastic bag..jelly, jelly snakes, condoms or suppositories? (Something along these lines, it sounded pretty bad)
Divot	For not attending to his duties as Hash Flash and not recording any juicy bits from last week's committee run
JC	For another one of his dastardly acts at the Moolollaba Triathlon event (he's a slippery one, this bloke) Not to mention his recent "posing as a big game fisherman," visit to NZ
Grewsome	A travesty of justice saw honest Grewsome wrongly convicted as Shit of the Week on some trumped up charge..Looks like corruption is still rife in Queensland, all these years after Fitzgerald.

Run 10/10 Well set run.....On On Looked good
